YUMBAH NAMED TOP PRIMARY PRODUCER AT SA FOOD AWARDS

Yumbah Aquaculture is celebrating a second successive win at the SA Premier's Food and Beverage Industry Awards, having taken home this year's Primary Producer award.

The Primary Producer category rewards excellence in sustainable production and a commitment to positively impacting agribusiness.

Food South Australia hosted the awards at the Adelaide Convention Centre, to recognise South Australian companies' commitment to excellence and innovation in food and beverage.

Yumbah Aquaculture chief executive David Wood said Yumbah's repeat win was recognition for the Yumbah team's unyielding commitment and passion for delivering the highest quality produce.

"At Yumbah, we're steadfast in our commitment to delivering delicious, fresh, sustainable premium produce," Mr Wood said.

"Our South Australian onshore abalone farms at Port Lincoln and Kangaroo Island are vertically integrated with our aquafeed factory in Lonsdale and processing centre and headquarters in Wingfield, Adelaide, and recognition like this award adds to our momentum for growth and diversification.

"We have a great team across the board and Friday night's win is for them."
